CAYMAN

The Cayman pipe ashtray and holder in one piece belongs to the most organic masterpieces from the Czevitrum products. Its shape is inspired by the opened mouth of a cayman.

Each piece is hand-blown without using any mould that makes it unique and never completely the same. After blowing it is hand cut, polished and sanded. Unconventional, yet practical design makes the Cayman ashtray not a common pipe accessory, but also a functional and decorative interior element.
